

Merle Woo is a socialist feminist educator and writer, who is currently teaching in Women's Studies at San Jose State University.

For 20 years, Merle has been a leader in Radical Women and the Freedom Socialist Party. During the '80s, as an outspoken Marxist lesbian feminist, she won an unfair labor practice (represented by the American Federation of Teachers), an out-of-court settlement, and a union arbitration by AFT against the University of California for violation of her free speech rights and discrimination based on race, sex, sexuality and political ideology.

In the 1990s, Merle fought with lecturers and students to maintain student democracy, and a lesbian and community focus in Women Studies at San Francisco State University.

Merle received the humanitarian award from the Northern California Lesbian and Gay Historical Society in 1994. Today she is a member of the California Faculty Association and the Mobilization to Free Mumia Abu-Jamal.
